DETAILED ACTION

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 9, 10, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Edwards, Jr. for the reasons of record and for the reasons which follow.

The teachings of Edwards are of record. Edwards describes the claimed invention and is therefore anticipatory of it.

Applicant argues that Edwards does not teach administration of phytase to ruminants. Edwards is very clear in stating that the feed can also be administered to animals such as cattle, see col. 6, lines 34-45. Applicant next argues that the reference is directed to the prevention of tibial dyschondroplasia and not the prevention of mastitis, but if one administers the phytase for the prevention of tibial dyschondroplasia in cattle then one would also treat the cattle's mastitis.

Thus, the rejection is proper and is maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 1-3 and 7-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Edwards, Jr. in view of WO 93/16175, Bedford et al., Lyons and CN 1135297 for the reasons of record and for the reasons which follow.

Applicants arguments are noted but the references were used together to form a 35 USC 103 rejection.

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

Applicant's arguments concerning Edwards have been addressed above. The secondary references were used for the reasons of record. Applicant cannot expect these references to contain each and every limitation of the claimed invention since this is 35 USC 103 rejection based on a combination of references. Edwards clearly provides the teaching for one of ordinary skill in the art to use the phytase for the prevention of tibial dyschondroplasia in cattle and in doing so one would also be treating the cattle's mastitis.

From the teachings of the references, it is apparent that one of ordinary skill in the art would have had a reasonable expectation of success in producing the claimed invention. Therefore, the invention as a whole was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, as evidenced by the references, especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

After further consideration, the examiner has decided that the claimed subject matter is still unpatentable over the cited references. All of the previously pending claims (1-6) were rejected by the examiner in the last office action under 35 USC 103 and since the same references that were used in the previous office action still apply to the claimed subject matter, the claims are still rejected over the same cited references under 35 USC 103.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
